

Telesafe™ is a unique PCI DSS compliant technical solution that directly combats the growing problem of credit card fraud and identity theft.

When taking credit card details over the telephone, TeleSafe™ allows the caller to enter their sensitive credit card numbers using their phones keypad, meaning the card holders details are never read out verbally at any time, and so protected and kept out of reach from potential misuse.

Using an API interface created for each client uniquely, card payment transactions are processed through the usual payment gateway electronically, meaning the person taking the call is never in possession of secure information, meaning card data is kept safe at all times.

DTMF tones are blanked out completely, making this a fully PCI DSS compliant solution, allowing calls to be recorded and stored as required, with the sensitive card details removed.
